

is that anyone could wield so much power in the first place. A man like Donald Trump could never be so dangerous if government and the market didn't concentrate power in the hands of a ruling class.

Putting another party in power won't fix this. All the faith invested in Obama's promises of Hope and Change just legitimized the government long enough for a more blatant tyrant to take the reins. All the taxes paid by hopeful citizens just put more bullets in the guns of the police, who will go on profiling, imprisoning, deporting, and murdering people under Donald Trump.

We have to stop lending our strength to these institutions. Instead, let's build networks to meet our needs directly and defend ourselves against everyone who wants to rule us. The only way to freedom and equality is through self-determination, mutual aid, and collective resistance.
